

George Blazek <georgeblazek2007@u.northwestern.edu>

---

RE: KanView Comment Form

1 message

---

ARMAIL [AR] <ARMAIL@da.ks.gov>

Mon, Oct 26, 2009 at 9:11 AM

To: George Blazek <gblazek@samadamsalliance.org>

Thank you for your inquiry.

The KanView website was developed by the Information Network of Kansas (INK), the official gateway for online access to Kansas government, in a joint effort with the Kansas Department of Administration. INK development costs for KanView were approximately $100,000. The Department of Administration staff work effort was not tracked, but was done within its existing budgeted resources at no additional cost to the public.

FG-----Original Message-----

From: george mailto:[gblazek@samadamsalliance.org]

Sent: Friday, October 23, 2009 12:58 PM

To: ARMAIL [AR]

Subject: KanView Comment Form

Below is the result of your feedback form. It was submitted by george <gblazek@samadamsalliance.org> on Friday, October 23, 2009 12:58:21 PM CDT

-----

realname: george

email: gblazek@samadamsalliance.org

subject: KanView Comment Form

phone: 402-212-8486

comment: Hello,

I work on behalf of the Sunshine Review Project. The goal of the project is to promote government transparency. To that end, we have a wiki, www.sunshinereview.org. The wiki has information about local governments, and it also has a checklist system to evaluate the local government transparency.

I am writing an article about the cost of constructing government transparency websites. I tried to find recent information about how much was spent to make KanView, but I had no success.

Do you know how much (to date) it has cost to make active contracts? If not KanView specifically, do you know how much else is spent to manage